

Students nationally recognized

Kyri Marinos, Kristina Vetter, Rose Lisi and Jim McEwan, grade seven students from Madison Middle School, clinched third place in the Grade 7-9 category in the American Statistical Association's National Poster Competition in Washington D.C. for their poster titled "Choose the Cookie that's the Best and Forget the Rest." The students' poster was one of more than 2,000 entries nationwide. The poster competition winners will be announced in the August issue of 'Amstat News' (magazine. amstat.org) and on the American Statistical Association Web site, where all the national winning posters will be featured.
